if so, the details thereof; whether the proposed micro-development schemes will be monitored by the Government; and if so, the role of State Governments envisaged in such micro-development schemes?

THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE MINISTRY OF HOME AFFAIRS (SHRI SHRIPRAKASH JAISWAL): (a) to (d) Law and order being a State subject, action with respect to various aspects/issues related to naxalite activities lies primarily in the domain of the concerned State Governments. The Central Government, however, supplements their efforts and resources by a variety of measures that include deployment of Central paramilitary forces which work under the control of the State Government concerned, sanctioning of India Reserve battalions, assistance for strengthening of the State police and intelligence agencies, re-imbursement of security-related expenditure, assistance in training of State police forces, sharing of intelligence, facilitating inter-State coordination and assistance in development works through a range of schemes of various Ministries, including various income-generating, public-utility and social-security schemes of Ministries like Rural Development, Agriculture, Youth Affairs and Sports, Panchayati Raj and Tribal Affairs.

Special attention on planning, implementation and monitoring of development schemes in the naxalite affected areas is being emphasized. An Inter Ministerial Group (IMG), under Additional Secretary (Naxal Management), with officers from Development Ministries and Planning Commission, oversees effective implementation of development schemes in naxalite affected areas for accelerated socio-economic development.

No comprehensive criminal intelligence database

1304. SHRI MOINUL HASSAN: Will the Minister of HOME AFFAIRS be pleased to state whether unlike many other countries, India still has no comprehensive criminal intelligence database available to all end user in real time?

THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE MINISTRY OF HOME AFFAIRS (SHRI MANIKRAO GAVIT): The National Crime Records Bureau (NCRB) maintains information relating to crime and criminals under the CCIS (Crime Criminal Information System) at the National level. The statistical information on crime and criminals is published on annual basis by the NCRB in its Annual publication titled "Crime in India". No comprehensive database on criminal intelligence is maintained by NCRB for end-users in real time.
